| 3. David is fantastic. Everything he covered was just what I wanted. My only regret is that a) the class is so short (6 weeks?), and b) wish you would offer a class taught by him all year. | Wed, May 15, 2013 9:07 AM  |
| 4. It was great to be presented with all that is going on in the internet, but it was also more than I could keep up with.   | Tue, May 14, 2013 5:12 PM  |
| 5. The instructor is very knowledgeable and his teaching style is unique and appropriate to this level--he translates complex "techie" terms to simple universal concepts.                   | Mon, May 13, 2013 10:30 AM |
| 6. Instructor was friendly, engaging, patient, and open to all questions.I would love to take another course with him.   | Sat, May 11, 2013 9:10 AM  |
| 7. David Casuto's handouts will be a long term reference for us. His presentations were very good, but at times the pace was a bit too fast for me.  | Wed, May 8, 2013 8:45 PM   |
| 8. David is personable and flexible. He is interested in everyone and establishes an atmosphere where every question is welcomed and appreciated. I learned a lot from him.                  | Wed, May 8, 2013 6:17 PM   |

| 9. I loved the Q & A sessions that were in every class. Gave me a chance to get answers that I wouldn't have found otherwise.  | Wed, May 8, 2013 8:33 AM |
| 10. Most everything worked well for me. Introduction of new material, review of (somewhat) familiar material. David is very responsive to questions and has an immediate "let's do this together" reflex, which takes the novice through 2.0 interactive tech. | Tue, May 7, 2013 9:39 PM |
| 11. the computer password system and initial setup for Mac users was a pain, but all else worked well.   | Tue, May 7, 2013 9:10 PM |
| 12. Worked: his knowledge, his delivery, his open-mindedness. Great fellow.  | Tue, May 7, 2013 8:52 PM |
